

Information on account registration (For students enrolling in 2026 Fall)

September 2026

At Hosei University, after admission, tuition fees are paid by direct debit. This is a system whereby tuition fees are automatically debited from the bank account registered for payment on the date specified by the university each semester. The transfer fee is borne by the university.

Please refer to the information below and be sure to complete the registration by following the steps outlined in the “HOSEI University Registration Guide for Direct Debit of School Fees” for future tuition fee payments. For registration, we use the system of Mitsubishi UFJ Factors Co., Ltd.

We recommend that the student or guarantor register the account, although it doesn't necessarily have to be in their name. Please note that tuition-related documents can only be sent to the student or guarantor. If you register an account under someone else's name, be sure to share the information with the account holder.

- * Students on leave of absence and those eligible for the “New System for Achievement of Free Higher Education” must also require that they register their direct debit accounts.
- * We recommend that you open a bank account specifically for transfers. If you use an existing account, please check the balance in your bankbook in advance to avoid insufficient funds on the debit date.
- * Only accounts at financial institutions in Japan can be registered.

3. About the direct debit

The first direct debit will be for the 2027 spring semester tuition fee, and the date will be Friday, April 30, 2027. Before the direct debit, we will send you a “Notification for Direct Debit Transfer of School Fees” around April, detailing the amount and date.

- * Please be advised that we may send the regular tuition fee notification even to those who have already submitted an application for leave of absence or withdrawal, as well as to students who are eligible for or currently applying for the “New System for the Realization of Free Higher Education.”
- * From next year onward, tuition will be debited on April 30 for the spring semester and on September 30 for the fall semester. If the debit date falls on a bank holiday, the payment will be processed on the next business day. “Notification for Direct Debit Transfer of School Fees” will be sent in March for both the spring semesters, and in September for the fall semester.
